LETTER FROM WASHINGTON CITY

WASHINGTON, D C, April 3 1871

SUMNER AND SAN DOMINGO

Senator Sumner says the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia City Item will be the Democratic nominee for the Presidency At least that is the prevailing and growing opinion

"He is a life long Democrat

"His record is grand.

'He is the embodiment, the essence, the glory of Democracy He is just the man to fire the flagging zeal of any party At the head of the Democratic ticket he would sweep all New England He is sure of the whole South The West would gladly take him Bear in mind that the Democrats of Massachusetts sent him to the Senate The Democrats are sure of triumph with him, they are sure of nothing without him

'These are the views of leading thoughtful well balanced Democrats here and their views are endorsed by Schurz Trumbull, Logan Tipton and other outspoken gentlemen'

Well if the Democracy should take Mr Sumner, it would be a great improvement on Seymour and Blair But the Washington Chronicle denies the charge and says Sumner will support heartily the Republican nominee as soon as it is known who he is

Mr Sumner is so anxious to get the Republican nomination himself, or at least to defeat Grant in the Republican Convention that he thinks it is necessary to abuse Mr Grant the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy

In a speech in the Senate on the 27th ult, Mr Sumner charged the President the Secretary of War, and the Secretary of the Navy with making war on Hayti, contrary to international law and the Constitution of the United States, without the consent of Congress

In his peroration he charged the President of being at the head and front of the Ku Klux Klan in and around San Domingo The pith of the whole of the evidence which Mr Sumner parades to sustain this baseless fabric of a vision, is found in the last order of the Navy Department dated January 9th 1871 twenty one days prior to the rejection of the treaty with San Domingo Providing for annexation it uses this language

You will receive your special instructions hereafter from the Rear Admiral commanding the north Atlantic fleet but for the present it is desirable that you should remain with the force under your command in and about the island of San Domingo especially the port belonging to the Dominican Government and the isthmus of Samana, for the cession of which the United States are now in treaty with the Dominican Government While that treaty is pending the Government of the United States has agreed to afford countenance and assistance to the Dominican people against their enemies now in the island and in revolution against the lawfully constituted government, and you will use the force at your command to resist any attempts by the enemies of the Dominican Republic to invade the Dominican territory by land or sea, so far as you can reach them. Of course a great deal must be left to your discretion but by communicating freely with the President Baez, he will show you the stipulations of the agreement drawn up between the United States and the Dominican Government, which will explain to you how far you are authorized to act While strictly complying with the agreement between the United States and the Dominican Government, you will avoid difficulties with foreign Powers when it is possible to do so, and will warn any naval force fitting out from Hayti, or any part of the Dominican Republic now in revolution, that the United States will not permit any hostile acts to be committed against the Dominicans '

The treaty after providing for annexation, has this clause

"The people of the Dominican Republic, shall in the shortest possible time, express in a manner conformable to their laws their will concerning the cession herein provided for, and the United States shall until such expression shall be had, protect the Dominican Republic against foreign interposition in order that the national expression may be free

Here was an executory contract to acquire a valuable island the treaty promised protection while the people of Dominica were voting, the instructions from the Navy Department were to go no further than the stipulations in the treaty The President had the undoubted right to make the treaty, and it was the duty of the War and Navy Departments of the Government to protect this inchoate right This is not all Congress made an appropriation for the President to lease the Bay of Samana for a military and naval station By virtue of this law, the President did lease the Bay of Samana Under this lease we took possession, and the American flag still floats on land near the bay No crime has been committed by the President or by any of the departments of the Government No rights have been trampled under foot, neither life liberty or property has been sacrificed by our army or navy Neither Hayti or San Domingo has complained of the supposed wrongs or violations of law, described in the speeches of Senators Sumner and Schurz It was a bloodless war of words.

The President had a perfect right to do all he did do The Constitution makes it his duty to see that Americans and their property should be protected wherever dispersed around the globe The precedents show he might have gone much farther than he did if the occasion had required it He commanded the Dominicans and Haytians to be peaceable and they obeyed without a shot or shell being fired If either had used force our Navy should have repelled it with force Force has been met by force time and again without any express act of Congress All our Indian wars have been commenced by the citizens, States or Territories without any act of Congress authorizing the President to commence war The U S army officers are reprimanded when they neglect active operations Prior to the Mexican war the instructions to our Army and Navy were very similar to those sent to San Domingo and Hayti Even the battles of Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma were fought by Gen Taylor before Congress declared war to exist between the United States and Mexico When Gov Douglass desired to take an American citizen from San Juan Island to Victoria the Army and Navy force was paraded to prevent him yet Congress did not declare war Graytown was bombarded by an American man-of-war without any declaration of war by the United States An American President approved the act and no Senator complained The combined forces of the United States England and France bombarded the Ports of Japan and compelled Japan to pay $3 000 000 indemnity All this was done without any declaration of war by the United States We also read of a naval engagement in the China waters between the combined forces of the United States, England and France, and according to Mr Sumner's report we received an indemnity of 000,000 taels This was all done without any declaration of war Mr Sumner, as Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, on the 20th of June 1870, reports to the Senate that we received more money from China than our citizens were damaged He says the examination of those claims were completed in January 1860, and the payments were duly made Then occurred a condition of things without precedent in the relations of nations After all the payments directed by the Commissioners were paid a large surplus was found in the custody of the legation at Pekin which was subsequently transferred to the United States This sum has been converted into ten forty bonds amounting at par to $380 000 Another amount of $200 87 in cash is also in possession of the Department and $2 000 remain in the custody of the Minister to China Mr Sumner sums up his report by saying that the whole of this fund in equity belongs to China, and he asks that China be requested to receive it All of this has been done without any declaration of war by Congress Yet this just and philanthropic Senator because the President directs the Navy to protect American property in San Domingo, he cries out in the Senate of the United States "It is difficult to see how we can condemn with proper whole hearted reprobation our own domestic Ku Klux with its painful outrages while the President puts himself at the head of a powerful and costly Ku Klux operating abroad in defense of international law and the Constitution of the United States ' The Dominican Government made the treaty and executed the lease with the President of the United States It asked and stipulated for the Navy of the United States to give the protection Her enemy, the Black Republic of Hayti did not complain Sumner Schurz the rebel Cabral and the Democratic party are all that complain

The President commanded the traitor Cabral and the Republic of Hayti not to cut the throats of citizens of the United States, or San Domingo, while we are negotiating for the annexation of the Island Hayti obeys and Cabral protests No blood is shed, and no one appears to be wronged except Sumner, Schurz and the Democratic party The truth is, the President has only done his duty according to the Constitution and the laws of the United States and acknowledged precedents This makes him unpopular with Sumner, Schurz and the whole Democratic party

The Democrats wish to beat him before the people in 1872 Sumner and Schurz wish to beat him before the Republican Convention in 1872 They have quarreled with the President and they are in for joining the sore heads The President is popular with the masses This makes Sumner, Schurz and the Democratic party uneasy and unhappy This accounts for their long, windy and sophistical speeches against the President and against the annexation of San Domingo

CURRENT NOTES.

The Pennsylvania Legislature has enacted a law, providing that women over twenty one years of age may be elected as school directors

The State of Lincoln is now maneuvering for admission into the Union It comprises what is now known as New Mexico, and contains over 90,000 inhabitants.

A lad in Hartford whose fifth birthday occurred last week asked his parents if the school would keep on that day, adding ' they didn't on Washington's birthday '

The heathen Chinee is making whisky in California by fermenting old rice rubber shoes and things, and the revenue people are after John The whisky made in this way is much sought after by suicides

Sixteen thousand five hundred and fifty copies of Mr Sumner's San Domingo speech and fourteen thousand of Mr. Schurz's, have been subscribed for at Washington, the greater share being taken by Democrats.

The mitrailleuse has existed in China for centuries A Jesuit missionary of Pekin gave a description of it in a book published in Paris as far back as 1782 The design which accompanied the description resembles greatly the French mitrailleuse

Movable or adjustable horse shoes have become a "fixed fact" and a company in Chicopee, Massachusetts, are engaged in their manufacture. This shoe can be taken off at night or when the horse is not at work, and put on again when wanted as easy as a pair of boots.

The English Government sent Napoleon the First to St Helena, and kept him there until he died. The same Government has tendered the hospitalities of Chiselhurst to Napoleon the Third If the latter is kept at his present place of abode until he dies, nobody will find fault

Illinois stands charged by the General Government with $91,610 27 for arms furnished loyal citizens during the war, to defend their homes from Golden Circles, and persons from Copperhead conspiracies The item ought properly to be charged to the Democratic State Central Committee, and law abiding men discharged from the obligation

Nevada is moving against Tahoe, and through her representative in the lower House of Congress has moved that the Judiciary Committee be requested to inquire what legislation is necessary to prevent damage to the public lands of the United States by the diversion of the waters of Lake Tahoe by a corporation organized under the laws of the State of California

The Springfield Republican says " ' Several places have claimed the champion mean men, but New London can take the belt. A man there who employs his father in his workshop lost a child and naturally the grandfather of the child wished to attend the funeral The son permitted the old man to go to the grave, and when he got home docked the poor fellow half a day lost time "

Senator Stevenson declared that only about half a dozen cases of violence occurred in Kentucky during his administration as Governor. To show that he has been misinformed or not informed the Frankfort (Ky) Commonwealth publishes what it says is a partial list of the cases of violence which occurred during that time These number 115, and include shootings and whippings, but do not include expulsions from homes by threats or apprehensions of violence

PERSONAL NOTES

The Southern papers are publishing a letter written by Gen Robert E Lee Feb 15th advocating the employment of negroes as soldiers, and expressing great faith in their efficiency

William H Corwin, the only son of the late Governor, better known as Tom Corwin of Ohio is now practicing homeopathy in Lebanon Penn He seems to have little of his father's ability, but none of his father's ambition

Jefferson Davis is haranguing the Democracy of the South and expresses the hope that he may yet live to see the sovereignty of the States vindicated The Oregon Herald and other papers are haranguing similarly and expressing a like hope

Baron Nathaniel de Rothschild who died in Paris last year in such a moneyless condition that his estate was declared to be worth only $0 000 000 is now reported to have left $25,000 000 Consequently his heirs will not suffer from poverty so much as was anticipated

Mazzini having published an eternal farewell to England expresses his determination to die in Italy, which, if the accounts of his health be true, will be neither difficult nor distant A Rome correspondent says, by the by, that the great Italian liberator is violently opposed to the course of the French insurgents, and hopes they may be summarily put down

The Secretary of War of the Dominican Republic has written a letter, dated San Domingo, March 20th to the Secretary of the San Domingo Commission in which he says ' The country is tranquil, and is every day more anxious that our annexation to the great Republic be speedily and favorably accomplished I can see no other salvation from the insidious intrigues of our western neighbors"

A Public Scandal

The proceedings at the Fair trial which has been progressing for some weeks at San Francisco, and the conduct of the newspapers of that city in spreading before the public every line and word of the disgusting and nauseating testimony, is a vast public scandal Nothing like it has ever before been known Similar trials have heretofore taken place elsewhere, but the newspapers have refrained from spreading the whole of the disgusting details before the public They have been restrained either by a moral sense of their own, or by a decent regard for the moral sense of the community But in this case the San Francisco papers suppress nothing They vie with each other in their endeavors to work up the batch of meretricious developments in a style to meet the most "appetiz ing" for diseased, depraved or prurient minds Unfortunately the Court so far forgot what was its duty as a conservator of morals as to permit the correspondence between Crittenden and Mrs Fair to be offered in evidence, thus reversing the original decision of the Judge, that "his Court would not be the first to allow letters in evidence of the relations between an adulterer and adulteress to be introduced in excuse for murder" Then the whole "correspondence" at once got into the newspapers, and the literary [illegible] of a pair of adulterers was spread out over several pages of each of the high-toned "family" journals of San Francisco. [illegible] may judge from the efforts of the newspapers one and all, in this behalf, San Francisco was quite as highly excited over [illegible] correspondence and the revolting details of the trial, as it was last year over the immense gambling scheme, called a enterprise, which gave that city such notorious celebrity. Every day for two weeks each of the papers has teemed with an average of ten columns of the testimony Such [illegible] is a scandal to a country, and the journals which have lent their columns to the [illegible] work of exhibiting with eagerness [illegible] most revolting details, are a reproach to [illegible]—if any real decency is left in San [illegible] The adulterer met his fate, it [illegible] as he deserved The adulteress should [illegible] tried and hanged, with no ado about [illegible] order these things much better in [illegible] community where there is [illegible] anything like a healthy, wholesome, popular sentiment Had not the San Francisco press made itself a panderer in this matter, to the [illegible] and brutal-minded elements of the [illegible] the affair would have excited [illegible] public justice would have [illegible] inflicted upon a murderess, and society would have had a good and quiet riddance of a pair of criminals But as it is, there is no [illegible] on the contrary, the whole influence produced by the affair is of the most debasing kind, and almost without [illegible] will lead directly to other and similar [illegible]

The Purpose.

The avowed purpose of the Democratic party to overthrow the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments and to undo all the achievements of the war The New York Herald which is getting Democratic of late) bears testimony [illegible] this point and says

> No Legislature gathering, no Convention, or assembly or meeting or journal, or leader, or orator of the Democratic party has admitted the validity [illegible] these amendments—the Democrats universally [illegible] them in speaking of the institution and while the Southern Democrats are openly organized and declared against these amendments and are working by terrorism to nullify them the Northern Democracy are secretly aiding and abetting their Southern allies The purpose of this movement is declared to be nullification, and that with the election of a Democratic President and Congress, negro political and civil equality will be practically abolished

Chicago boasts the greatest lumber market in the country if not the world. Her wharves for this indispensible commodity stretch for more than 15 miles, and seem almost interminable Thousands of car loads are constantly leaving for the west and south and east and the railroads and lake are as constantly bearing their great burdens to supply the constantly increasing demand With all this immense array of almost endless piles of lumber and timber, it is almost impossible without the aid of art to furnish it in sufficient quantities.

The whole cloud of calumnies against President Grant is whiffed away at once by the San Domingo report, and by his own admirable message accompanying it It is the general expression that no vindication could be more complete Those who have been most utterly maligning him are now glad to find refuge in silence. For once professional [illegible] and [illegible] whom such pretended Republican journals as the Chicago Tribune and the Cincinnati Commercial employ as [illegible] correspondents, are utterly [illegible]

Frank Blair has written a letter to the editor of the Montgomery (Alabama) Mail reiterating his views as to what is the "paramount [illegible]" He again declares it to be [illegible] and avers that, in the presence of this issue, "to engage" the public mind in the discussion of economic and civil service measures is to cry, "peace, peace, when there is no peace" He would sound [illegible] of a new civil war, for nothing is [illegible] than that his programme can never succeed except through a second and fresh [illegible]

The following is one of Fred. Douglass' [illegible] at Sumner "The fact that our long honored and trusted friend Sumner opposes the annexation of Santo Domingo does not conceal from me the fact that Santo Domingo is opposed mainly, if not wholly, because her people are not white If they were of the pure Caucasian race all parties would [illegible] the acquisition of Santo Domingo

The Democratic argument against Ku-Klux legislation has two divisions, which destroy each other in the most unfriendly and illogical manner It runs thus First, everything in the South is in good condition and there is no need of any legislation; second every thing at the South is in a demoralized condition and the fact must be charged to reconstruction and the Republican party

Duke Gwin of Sonora fame is in California working for the U S Senate It is said that he and Johnson, candidate for Governor, are working together Gwin, however, "keeps shady," but Johnson is his mouth piece and expresses his thoughts and purposes. This combination represents the chivalry "lost cause" element of the party

The total of the national debt is now a fraction over twenty-three hundred millions, having been diminished by two hundred and fifteen millions since Gen Grant's accession to the Presidency

F F. Plamondon of Butteville was found drowned in a well a few days ago He fell in while attempting to draw water He was in feeble health, and, it is supposed, lost his balance and fell in.

The [illegible] Statesman says Quite a number of the members of the medical profession of this vicinity will leave by the steamer Oriflamme, to attend the National Medical Association, which holds its annual meeting at San Francisco on the 2d of May. Drs Belt and Warinner go as delegates of the Medical Society of this Judicial District, Drs Carpenter and Payton on the part of the Medical Faculty of Wallamet University, and Drs Jessup and Hall as the representatives of the Alumni of our Medical College

From the Statesman Sheriff Gates and Deputy Olds, of Yamhill, came over yesterday with three Indians, convicted of assault with intent to kill, committed upon an Indian medicine woman Two were sentenced for two years and one for one year These gentlemen inform us that there was a large civil docket at this term of Court but not much criminal business. The lawsuit relating to the town site of Lafayette stands continued for want of jurisdiction until the patent issues for the land In the case of Hart vs the McMinnville Ditch Company, Hart received judgments amounting to about $3,800 against the company.

THE TERRITORIES

"Going gunning for a man" is the latest euphemism of the Montana press, and is an elegant mode of expressing the fact that one ruffian has shot another.

The store of Jas. Crohan at Warren's Diggings was robbed a few days ago of merchandise to the amount of about $600 Among the articles stolen were 30 pairs of gum boots

Orders have been issued to complete the survey of the coast from Columbia river to Gray's Harbor, under the superintendence of Capt J J Gilbert. Shoalwater Bay will be surveyed first, a work rendered imperative by repeated marine disasters which have occured there

A Montana paper has this P. W. McAndrew brings with him the latest chart and report issued by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company The report sets forth the superiority of the Yellowstone and Gallatin route, informing the world that the road will undoubtedly be constructed up the Yellowstone to the Bozeman Pass, and thence to Gallatin City, from which points two routes are suggested for crossing the main range

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS ITEMS

The Illinois Legislature has adjourned to meet in Chicago in November. Springfield is much excited thereat

At the municipal election at Omaha the other day the Republicans elected their candidates for Mayor, City Marshal, Treasurer City Clerk, and four out of six Councilmen, by from 30 to 300 majority Delegate Garfield has introduced a bill for the sale of timber lands in California, Oregon and Washington Territory, which is identical in its terms with Mr Sargent's bill of last session, which, it will be remembered, passed the House, but failed to receive action in the Senate Mr. Garfield has also introduced a bill to incorporate the Lake Washington Canal Company, for the purpose of constructing a navigable canal from the tide waters of Puget Sound to Lake Union, and thence to Lake Washington, in King county.

There is great activity in the construction of railroad lines in Missouri and Texas that will connect more or less directly with, if they do not form a portion of, the Southern Pacific Railroad. In the former State, the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad is completed from St Louis to the western border, a distance of about 300 miles The Missourians claim that this is virtually the eastern end of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and the St. Louis Democrat says "the construction is going forward rapidly, and will be pushed to a thorough completion to San Francisco"

The Precise Situation in San Domingo

The New York Tribune defines it lucidly and comprehensively: Two republics, known respectively as Hayti and Dominica, or Santo Domingo, divide the great and fertile island which was the cradle of Spanish dominion in this hemisphere Hayti was long since a French colony, and French is still its prevailing language, while Santo Domingo is Spanish in history and language. The Roman Catholic is the religion of each Santo Domingo has the larger territory, Hayti the far more numerous and warlike population.

The boundary between them is ill-defined, leaving a considerable tract claimed by each. The whole island was originally Spanish, and has since been, for a few years, united (about half a century ago) under Haytian rule Cabral, the rival of Baez, the Dominican President de facto, is at home in the debatable land, and is quietly backed by Haytian men and munitions in his efforts to oust Baez He has nearly as good a right to be President as Salnave would have to be President of Hayti, if Saget had not put him to death.

Cabral, backed by Haytian men and money is constantly threatening Baez with overthrow by force, and making Baez's overture for annexation the basis of his appeals to Dominican love of independence and jealousy of strangers Gen Grant has directed our naval officers in the waters of that island to render a moral support to Baez, pending final action in this country on the question of annexation In other words, our President says to Hayti and Cabral, "You shall not subvert by force, because of its overture to us, the existing government of Santo Domingo, while we are considering that overture and in doubt as to the expediency of closing with it"

This warning looks very black in Mr Sumner's lurid rhetoric, but those who will dispassionately consider the essential facts, will generally regard it differently Let us keep perfectly cool, pondering for a time this question, for which we find no answer in Mr Sumner's speech If Baez is a usurper, what is Saget?

Gen Jackson on Protection.

In Niles's Register of April 24, 1830, vol. 38, page 173, may be found a letter to W Ramsey and T Hartley Crawford, as follows

WASHINGTON, April 5, 1830

GENTLEMEN I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note this morning, presenting me with an ax and hatchet from the manufactory of Messrs Dunlop & Maderia, in the borough of Chambersburgh, which I accept with pleasure These samples of the skill employed in that establishment fully illustrate the capacity of our citizens to contend successfully with the ingenuity and enterprise of other nations They, in fact refute the idea—too prevalent in several portions of the Union—that the policy of Protection is, in every view of its effects, unequal to the anticipations of its friends

I pray you to present those gentlemen my warmest wishes for their prosperity and to accept for yourselves the renewal of the obligations which I owe you for the many instances of your friendship and regard Your obedient servant, ANDREW JACKSON

Messrs Ramsey and Crawford

When this letter was written Gen Jackson was President of the United States Were he now living he would be denounced as a "tool of monopolists" That is the usual expression now employed toward those who hold the views on this subject which were held by Gen Jackson and all the great men of his time

George Sanders, who represented the so-called Confederacy in Canada, during the late rebellion, is now reported to be in London demonstrating how the South will yet gain its independence He ought to come out to Oregon and start a Democratic newspaper

Later advices from California make a somewhat better showing for crops than previously reported Considerable rain fell about ten days ago in some localities, but it was not general throughout the State

We have from a "[illegible]" at Lafayette a large number of stanzas, entitled "Nature's Perfect," which he wants printed Much as we like to encourage genius we cannot print the whole poem," but we give one stanza as a sample

Oft the celestial sky [illegible]
In all the colors we know
See the Red White and Blue
So very plain,
We fancy [illegible]

It strikes us that both the argument and the poetry here are somewhat lame, but it may seem different to a highly poetic mind. On the whole, however, we prefer not to engage the Lafayette poet as a regular contributor We will, however, promise to pay him liberally for all poetic effusions from his pen which we hereafter publish

The New York World, in stating that "the best men on the Democratic platform are coming to the front," must mean a delicate allusion to that one, who after coming to the front the other day in Pennsylvania, said "Young men! profit by my example" whereupon the trap fell, and he died almost without a struggle.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS —We clip the following paragraphs from the San Francisco Commercial Herald of the 12th inst

[illegible] the current week but little flour or [illegible] offered for sale, even at extreme prices [illegible], however, purchased some wheat [illegible] the highest price yet attained but since [illegible] the price has eased off considerably, yet [illegible] too high to admit of European orders being [illegible] The appearance of vessels in the [illegible] river for wheat cargoes to the United [illegible] is a new feature in the Oregon trade, [illegible] that farmers find it more to [illegible] direct to the shippers than to [illegible] The result will be the less flour will [illegible] California than was expected The [illegible] announcement is to strengthen [illegible] market Our stock of superfine and [illegible] is very light, nor have we any [illegible] left for its manufacture The [illegible] been advanced accordingly [illegible] of all grades is now fifty cents per [illegible] than it was a month since.

[illegible] There continues to be a [illegible] making to force up prices to a remunerative point by reducing the supply withdrawing [illegible] from the trade, or otherwise keeping [illegible] able time in port Cargoes of [illegible] rough sell here at $14@15 dressed, $24 [illegible] redwood rough, $15 The mill [illegible] cargo sales from northern ports is [illegible] $18@20 for flooring Fol [illegible] rates to dealers Redwood [illegible] siding, $22 50, do surface $30 [illegible] Oregon rough, $17 do, flooring, $18, laths, $2 75@3 [illegible] Oregon are scarce at $3@3 50 [illegible] Common Bays are dull of sale at [illegible]

Our stock of meats of all description [illegible] light for this season of the year, [illegible] the single exception of beef Oregon is holding back her supplies of pork [illegible] this necessitates liberal imports [illegible] from Porkopolis and other cities [illegible] Following is the report [illegible] in the West The annual report [illegible] White & Carroll, of Chicago, gives [illegible] figures relative to the packing [illegible] West the total number of hogs [illegible] packed so far is 907 767 with eight or [illegible] houses yet to make their returns The [illegible] and Provision Company have [illegible] hogs, and will make their number [illegible] before they close their house The [illegible] will probably reach from 91,000 to [illegible] The total number packed last year was [illegible] The total number of cattle killed this [illegible] against 11,963 last season We [illegible] canvas-covered hams sug [illegible] from Cincinnati St Louis, Chicago, [illegible] shipper being Duffield, of Chi [illegible] & Sons have contracted to [illegible],000 lbs of bacon, sides, etc [illegible] cured hams are offered at 18c but [illegible] of this description rule at 20c or [illegible] Oregon is sending some bacon here [illegible] at 17c, while a better article [illegible] West, in canvas, is obtainable at 15@ [illegible] The harm of sending us sugar cured [illegible] is a warning to our local packers [illegible] more in curing their bacon or hams, [illegible] will lose the entire trade of the coast [illegible] will have the best or none

[illegible] Hams and Lard—Sales of Oregon sides [illegible] now held higher Lo [illegible] in considerable demand active. [illegible] trade prices approximate current [illegible] packers Bacon, breakfast, per [illegible], belly, 15c, hams, 13@13½c, do, [illegible] lard, in tins and kegs, 14@14½c [illegible] Pork—The market is supplied from [illegible] local packers at our quotations, say [illegible] clear, bbls, $30, do, do, hf bbls, $15, [illegible] bbl, $26, do, prime mess per bbl, [illegible] per bbl, $21@22, beef, salt, in [illegible] to $18; smoked beef, 13c [illegible] of certain articles of Oregon pro [illegible] list to date, have been as fol [illegible] the, 229,173, wheat, sks, 13 964, [illegible] salmon, bbls, 869, do, hf bbls, [illegible] 185, bacon, pkgs, 601; beef, bbls, [illegible] pkgs, 155 butter, pkgs, 112, lard, [illegible] bbls, 798, dried apples, pkgs, [illegible] bxs, 22,713.

[illegible] AD SURVEYS —Col. Tilton and [illegible] to have gone straightway about [illegible] upon their arrival at Walla Walla [illegible] of the 15th says The railroad survey [illegible] just outside of town, and are en [illegible] ing the route from this place to [illegible] Col. Tilton, of the Northern Pacific [illegible] at the head of the party We will [illegible] of the survey as soon as it can be [illegible] The operations were actually com [illegible] days ago, and two lines have [illegible] from Third street to the crossing of [illegible] a distance of about four and a half [illegible] of these lines runs down on the south [illegible] on the north side of the creek, and is [illegible] grade of fifty feet to the mile. For this [illegible] the line is almost a straight air, and it [illegible] is for some ten miles further [illegible] that there can easily be found a [illegible] route."

[illegible] FOR A PLACE TO SETTLE — [illegible] Stitzel & Upton's real estate [illegible] day, we found the junior [illegible] of the firm patiently and particularly [illegible] a party of immigrants in [illegible] the towns interior, farming lands [illegible] locations of timber and prairie [illegible] other particulars too tedious to [illegible] They had an idea that they want [illegible] Yamhill or in the neighborhood of [illegible] In the afternoon we saw the same men [illegible] with families, take the train for Au [illegible] The interior agents and people are as [illegible] in the matter of giving such minute [illegible] as immigrants desire, as the agents [illegible] those who come here for homes will [illegible] trouble in finding just the places they [illegible]

[illegible] "Rev"—In announcing yesterday the [illegible] Monteith, Indian Agent at Lapwai [illegible] prefix "Rev." We are since informed [illegible] himself, that the title does [illegible] to him. We so wrote without partiality [illegible], under the missionary policy [illegible] we did not suppose that any [illegible] a "Rev" or a Bishop, or something of [illegible], could have a ghost of a show at an In [illegible] We don't know whether the apol [illegible] Grant

[illegible] FOR HIM —We are specially requested by [illegible] Fellow of Salem to "pass round" one [illegible] "Bullette" who is traveling through the [illegible] a genuine Odd Fellows' traveling [illegible] the strength of which he is bilking mem [illegible] fraternity out of sums of money At [illegible] on some of the members for a con [illegible] of fifteen dollars, took the money and [illegible] with it against "the tiger." He [illegible] to have come this way

[illegible] MISCHIEF —We hear that some [illegible] person "vandalized" upon Judge [illegible] garden Sunday night, destroying [illegible] and shrubbery There have been [illegible] three other instances in other parts of the [illegible] a short time. It would be difficult to [illegible] any reason for such predatory operations [illegible] that somebody is possessed of the devil [illegible] to find, for the moment any other [illegible] to lay his hands to

[illegible] UPON THE HOTELS —The influx of passengers by the last two or three steamers has had [illegible] effect to fill our hotels to repletion notwithstanding that they are more numerous and of [illegible] capacity than ever before, and that the [illegible] are constantly working off into the interior We learn that there were one hundred and [illegible] arrivals at the American Exchange on [illegible] What is to be done with all the "com [illegible] people is beginning to become a conundrum

A NEW SUPERINTENDENT —We learn that Mr. [illegible] Hallett, the present Assistant Superintendent of the O & C railroad goes to the front to [illegible] as Superintendent of construction His place [illegible] will be taken to day by Mr Hildreth, [illegible] of the Central Pacific road who arrived by [illegible] last steamer

RECEIVING MACHINERY —Knott's new ferry [illegible] was yesterday hauled alongside the steamer [illegible] from which she took on board the boiler [illegible] is to be used in her; and then she was [illegible] down to the Willamette Iron Works [illegible] she is to receive her engines and machinery

SHIPPING NEWS.—The bark Envoy, Captain [illegible] sailed from San Francisco for this port, [illegible] 8th

The British ship Doonby sailed March 22 from [illegible], Wales, for Portland

The [illegible] bark Loeird, hence from this [illegible] cargo of wheat, arrived at Queenstown, [illegible]

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER.—There was a good house at Mrs Bates' benefit last evening, and the selections were rendered in first class style We have heretofore had occasion to notice Mr Bates' personations of Richard III, and Shylock, and we do not need to add anything now to the commendations he has heretofore received, not only at our hands, but through the voice of the public He is, certainly, very correct in both personations but, we think, especially so in Shylock He was abundantly applauded last evening, not only in the Shakesperian selections but in the comedy The support given him by Mrs Bates and Mr Vinson was unexceptional

Be Guided by what you Know

There is an old proverb which says Experience is the safest guide To this guide the ill and ailing naturally turn when casting about for the means of relief They [illegible] what has been done for others before they adopt it themselves Of all the remedies and preventives in use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters meets the test most triumphantly and hence its immense popularity and vast sales The sufferer from indigestion is sure to find some one among his friends who has been cured of that ailment by the famous vegetable stomachic The victim of fever and ague liver complaint constipation nervous prostration or general debility has only to make inquiry in the neighborhood where he dwells in order to discover what this standard restorative has effected in cases similar to his own In the published testimony to its merits he will find a volume of proofs of its sanitary properties which it is impossible for his common sense to resist Hostetter's and the effect it produces on the system adds another to the host of witnesses in its favor Thus its reputation founded on facts, not assertions continually grows and spreads Charlatans and impostors some of them mere local tricksters, and others who take a somewhat wider range attempt to thrust it to the hands and down the throats of invalids their [illegible] concoctions as substitutes for the tonic which for so many years has been a medicinal staple throughout the United States Spanish America Canada and the West Indies but only succeed to a very limited extent In this reasoning age the people having ascertained what is really deserving of their confidence, decline running after strange gods"

The Hawk's Nest

(Sierras)

BY BRET HARTE

We checked our pace—the red road sharply rounding,
We heard the troubled flow
Of the dark olive depths of pines resounding
A thousand feet below
Above the tumult of the canyon lifted
The gray hawk breathless hung,
Or on the hill a winged shadow drifted
Where furze and thorn bush clung;
Or where half way the mountain side was furrowed
With many a seam and scar,
Or some abandoned tunnel dimly burrowed—
Or mole-hill seen so far
We looked in silence down across the distant
Unfathomable reach
A silence broken by the consistent
And realistic speech

Walker of Murphy's blew a hole through Peters
For telling him he lied
Then up and dusted out of South Hornitas
Across the long Divide.
We ran him out of Strong's and up through Eden
And cross the ford below
And up this mountain (Peters' brother leadin')
And me and Clark and Joe
He fou't us game somehow I disremember
Just how the thing kem round
Some say 'twas wadding some a scattered ember
From fires on the ground
But in one minute all the hill below him
Was just one sheet of flame
Guardin' the crest Sam Clark and I called to him
And—well the dog was game
He made no sign—the fires of hell were round him
The pit of hell below
We sat and waited but we never found him
And then we turned to go
And then—you see that rock that's grown so bristly
With chapparel and tan—
Suthin crep out—it might hev been a grizzly
It might hev been a man—
Suthin that howled and gnashed its teeth and shouted
In smoke and dust and flame;
Suthin that sprang into the depths about it
Grizzly or man—but game
That's all Well yes it does look rather risky
And kinder makes one queer
And dizzy lookin down A drop of whisky
Ain't a bad thing right here

Features of the Fair Trial

[From the Marysville Appeal]

A singular feature of the trial of Mrs Fair for the murder of A P Crittenden is the attendance of several representatives of the Woman's Rights movement and the sympathy they express for the assassin It is difficult to conceive what principle of woman's rights is involved in this trial, unless the strong minded females propose to introduce a new plank in their platform, which shall give bad women the right to rob wives and families of their protectors, and in the event of his pretending to fulfill in the slightest degree his moral or legal obligations, to put a bullet through his heart. That women who profess to devote their time and energies to the advancement of the interests of their sex should manifest so decided a sympathy with this bold, bad woman cannot be reconciled with any idea of common sense or decency When in the course of her testimony Mrs Fair declared that were Crittenden alive, she would have made Campbell the prosecuting attorney apologize on his bended knees for his language to her, these strong minded females were so demonstrative in their applause that they were fined $25 for contempt of court, and Mrs Fair promptly proposed to pay their fines It is difficult to [illegible] to the sentiment that called forth such approving manifestations Mrs Fair's [illegible] if true simply showed the hold that [illegible] upon Crittenden, when, having be[illegible] family disgraced himself and de[illegible] wife for such a woman as Mrs [illegible] he would publicly champion the [illegible] wrongs of his paramour And this was [illegible] occasion on which these strong [illegible] disgraced themselves and [illegible] published reports of the trial [illegible] sentiments, opened only to [illegible] constructions, met their hearty ap[illegible] above all is the plain fact that [illegible] women have gone as spectators into a [illegible] only for the first time in their lives [illegible] the class of men who usually [illegible] court room when a case of peculiar [illegible] scandal is on trial have drank [illegible] thirst the filthy details, and [illegible] their sympathy with the mis[illegible] man, who murdered her [illegible] the presence of his innocent [illegible] that there are many good [illegible] who sympathise with [illegible] so-called Woman's Rights movement, and [illegible] mortification that a cause that [illegible] in it should be thus dis[illegible] ment is unfortunately re[illegible] by those who publicly [illegible] championship Their last conven[illegible] was disgraceful and robbed the cause of [illegible] it previously had, but if any [illegible] were needed, it is furnished [illegible] conduct of these Woman's Rights lead[illegible] their shameless manifestations of sympathy for the female assassin, now on trial in San Francisco

Alsace and Lorraine

[illegible] France and Germany by Father Hyacinthe

Hitherto I have said nothing of Alsace and Lorraine and my silence has been intentional Although so hotly debated on both sides this question appears to me only a secondary one It has nothing to do with the real ground of the quarrel and the undue importance assigned to it both by France and Germany, has been one of the most futile though the same time most fruitful causes of the prolongation of the strife For myself, I have too high and too just an idea of my country to confound her moral integrity with material integrity upon this point or to [illegible] that the mere possession of two provinces [illegible] so essential to her greatness that if [illegible] them she would forfeit her high pre[illegible] in Europe English history itself [illegible] the contrary When we retook Calais [illegible] which was spoken of as a loaded [illegible] directed against the heart of France [illegible] was looked upon in England as a [illegible] tune, and your Queen went to [illegible] the fatal name of Calais en[illegible] her heart But what English[illegible] day ever regrets the loss [illegible] and just so will be, I doubt [illegible] and Metz are taken away [illegible] impor[illegible] clinging so tenacious [illegible] for the heroic loyalty which [illegible] have displayed towards France, and [illegible] France and to the Alsace and Lor[illegible] to remain in France, and they [illegible] prove it by their votes, as they have de[illegible] it by shedding their blood, and it is the duty of France, both to them and to her [illegible] not to abandon them

On the other hand Germany is wrong in [illegible] the annexation of these provinces [illegible] guarantee against aggression from [illegible] side. Let the new German Empire be moderate as well as strong, and she will have nothing to fear from the attacks of a neighbor who will be at once weakened and grateful Whatever opinions others may have I believe in the gratitude of nations and more especially in that of my own generous country The true guarantees for Germany are the relations of good neighborhood and a sincere and permanent alliance with us and the best pledge of such an alliance would be to allow Alsace and Lorraine to continue in the national unity of France Those provinces you will say are German both by history and language and I willingly admit it [illegible] they are pervaded by the spirit of France [illegible] they are ours by the energy and persistence of their patriotism Alsace and Lorraine form a natural and living bond between these two great nations They are as it were the hand—I might almost say the heart—of Germany reposing affectionately in the hand and heart of France

New Party Projects

[From the N Y Times Apr 12

No one doubts that there exists in the Republican Party at this moment a feeling of discontent It is not wide-spread but it makes itself visible in newspaper opposition, and in attempts to direct party action This feeling finds expression in vague suggestions of amnesty civil and revenue reform, and return to specie payments All these subjects are important but the persons urging them on the public attention are not clear in their statements of what they desire Generalities will not do There must be a definite policy prescribed We are compelled to raise a large revenue, and to raise it in a manner which shall be least burdensome to the people is a difficult task The gentlemen calling themselves the Central Republican Association of Hamilton county, who lately assembled at Cincinnati and published their opinions on various questions that of revenue reform in[illegible]cluded I say that the "public revenues should be derived from duties on imports levied on the smallest possible number of taxable articles This proposition will give rise to much difference of opinion with regard to the articles on which the tax should be levied. The revenue has already been greatly reformed, and as soon as the condition of the country will permit other reforms will be made This is the work of the Republican Party Those Republicans at the West who are now urging us to go faster should remember that great results have already been accomplished by making haste slowly

The only hope of reform in the civil service lies in the action of the Republican Party In the victors belong the spoils is a Democratic principle It is ingrained and ineradicable The condition of affairs in this city is an example of what would exist in the nation if by any chance the Democratic Party should come into power Civil service reform according to Democratic views means a general turning out of the Opposition This is not the kind of reform desired at the West

Objections to our present financial policy consist in loose expressions about an irredeemable currency This currency with which so much fault is now found answered the needs of the Government during the war, and since the inauguration of President Grant has, owing to the faithfulness with which the revenues have been collected and the economy with which they have been disbursed been steadily appreciating in value We say then that the discontent, which is occasionally manifested at the West in meetings like that at Cincinnati, is without foundation Not one of the reforms asked can be hoped for from the Democratic Party Independent action would tend to defeat the desired end The Republican Party has already accomplished great reforms, and is the party of progress It is only by acting with it that the supporters of revenue civil service or any other reform, can attain their object

How Circumstantial Evidence Wove a net of Death about an Innocent Man

A remarkable case showing the danger of trusting implicitly to circumstantial evidence has just been concluded in Toledo Nearly three years ago, Robert Sharp was found dead with shot and slugs in his brain A man named Harrington, who had been on intimate terms with the deceased, was arrested for the murder. The evidence was wholly circumstantial, but so skillfully worked up by the detectives that Harrington was convicted and sentenced to the Penitentiary His lawyeres had become interested in his case, and, although Harrington was a poor man, they determined to fight his cause to the end After a long and arduous struggle through the District and Supreme Courts an order for a new trial was obtained, and that trial has just been closed

The main points in the evidence on which he was convicted were the apparent correspondence of the shot in the body of the dead man with that in the shot bag belonging to Harrington the correspondence of a piece of a newspaper found near the scene of the supposed murder, and assumed to be part of the gun wadding, with a torn paper in Harrington's residence and a piece in his vest pocket, and that the motive for the murder was to be found in the alleged fact of Sharp having come to Toledo with several hundred dollars of money, which Harrington knew and that no one else was so intimate with him

On the second trial it was rendered doubtful whether there was a similarity in the shot It was clearly proven that the pieces of paper alleged to have been picked up at the scene of the murder were not there at the time of the finding of the body, nor for a day or two afterward, and the inference was unavoidable that they were put there by the detectives to aid them in working up the case against Harrington It was further proven that Sharp was destitute when he arrived in Toledo, and that Harrington was doing his best to aid him in procuring employment To crown all, an alibi was clearly and satisfactorily proven Harrington was declared innocent and the jury voluntarily gave him a letter signed by every member repeating, in emphatic terms, their belief in his entire innocence or any knowledge of the supposed murder, and bearing testimony to his uniform good character The public sentiment unanimously coincided with this verdict The former employer of Harrington immediately took him back into service

It causes an unpleasant shudder to reflect that a perfectly innocent man of good character suffered two years of degrading punishment, and narrowly escaped an ignominious death for a crime of which he knew nothing It is another warning of the danger of implicit trust in wholly circumstantial evidence and a protest against the detectives in "working up a case" against one they choose to suspect

Cheap water Pipe.

"THE ASPHALTUM PRESSURE PIPE COMPANY, of San Francisco, having purchased of the patentees the sole right to manufacture on this coast, are now making an article at their works at Alameda Point that will supply the general want of a cheap and durable water pipe The invention originated in France where these pipes are extensively used as well as in Germany in fact, all over Europe almost entirely superseding for all ordinary purposes the use of iron It is no new thing, having been in use twenty years

Its Durability.

Being imperishable and insensible to atmospheric influences or chemical properties of the earth it never changes and is consequently much more durable than iron which corrodes and in time leaks

It is a Non-Conductor,

And will not freeze except at a remarkably low temperature and even then its expansive power is greater than that of frozen water In warm weather it acts as a cooler for water passing through it.

Neutrality to Acids and Alkalis.

This pipe is not affected by acids and alkalis, nor is it affected by galvanic currents—consequently is invaluable in conducting telegraph wires under ground through tunnels and under bridges

Elasticity

The elasticity of this pipe proves its bursting from outward shocks or concussions The interior of the pipes being glazed are as smooth as porcelain, and consequently are never clogged by adhering sediment

Lightness

The mean weight of these pipes to iron is as one to five which not only facilitates handling, but reduces the cost of transportation

Laying the Pipe

Is a simple matter—can be laid by any laboring man of ordinary intelligence, but the Company if required will always furnish a competent person free of expense to oversee the proper laying of the pipe Contracts taken for any required length of pipe from water and mining companies and warranted to stand according to contract

Pipe Under Pressure

Can be seen at the office of the Company We are the only parties manufacturing this pipe on the Pacific Coast under this patent. All other offered is spurious and an infringement

Cheapness.

The cost when laid including connections is about one quarter that of lead and one half that of iron

We manufacture this pipe in lengths of twelve feet and ship it everywhere by all sorts of conveyances—no special care being required We manufacture it of any size from one to twelve inches

Pressure.

We manufacture according to the pressure required from 1 to 600 pounds to the inch and guarantee it to stand the pressure

Prices

1 inch	10 cents per foot	For pipe capable of resisting a pressure of 150 lbs to the square inch
2 inch	20
3 inch	30
4 inch	40
5 inch	50
6 inch	60
8 inch	$1 00
10 inch	$1 25
12 inch	$1 50

This pipe being made of a combination of paper coated and asphaltum in lengths of twelve feet should not be confounded with coal tar asphaltum pipe in lengths of four feet

The Hawk's Nest.

[Sierras.]

BY BRET HARTE.

We checked our pace—the red road sharply rounding;
We heard the troubled flow
Of the dark olive depths of pines, resounding
A thousand feet below;

Above the tumult of the canyon lifted,
The gray hawk breathless hung,
Or on the hill a winged shadow drifted
Where furze and thorn-bush clung;

Or where, half-way, the mountain side was furrowed
With many a seam and scar,
Or some abandoned tunnel dimly burrowed—
Or mole-hill seen so far;

We looked in silence down across the distant
Unfathomable reach,
A silence broken by the consistent
And realistic speech:

"Walker of Murphy's blew a hole through Peters
For telling him he lied,
Then up and dusted out of South Hornitas
Across the long Divide.

"We ran him out of Strong's and up through Eden,
And 'cross the ford below,
And up this mountain (Peters' brother leadin'),
And me and Clark and Joe.

"He fou't us game; somehow, I disremember
Just how the thing kem round;
Some say 'twas wadding, [illegible] a scattered ember
From fires on the ground.

"But in one minute all the hill below him
Was just one sheet of flame;
Guardin' the crest, Sam Clark and I called to him,
And—well the dog was game.

"He made no sign—the fires of hell were round him,
The pit of hell below;
We sat and waited, but we never found him,
And then we turned to go.

"And then—you see that rock that's grown so bristly
With chapparel and tan—
Suthin' crep' out—it might hev been a grizzly,
It might hev been a man—

"Suthin' that howled and gnashed its teeth and shouted
In smoke and dust and flame;
Suthin' that sprang into the depths about it,
Grizzly or man—but game!

"That's all. Well, yes, it does look rather risky,
And kinder makes one queer
And dizzy looking down. A drop of whisky
Ain't a bad thing right here!"

—From the Art Review for March.

Features of the Fair Trial.

[From the Marysville Appeal.]

A singular feature of the trial of Mrs. Fair for the murder of A. P. Crittenden, is the constant attendance of several representatives of the Woman's Rights movement, and the sympathy they express for the assassin. It is difficult to conceive what principle of woman's rights is involved in this trial, unless these strong-minded females propose to introduce a new plank [illegible] platform, [illegible] shall give bad women [illegible] the wives and families of [illegible] doctors, and in the event of the pretending [illegible] to fulfill in the slightest degree his moral [illegible] obligations, to put a bullet through his heart. That women who profess to devote their time and energies to the advancement of the interests of their sex should manifest so decided a sympathy for this bold, bad woman, cannot be reconciled with any idea of common sense or decency. [illegible] in the course of her testimony Mrs. Fair declared that were Crittenden alive she would have made Campbell, the prosecuting attorney, apologize on his bended knees for his language to her, these strong-minded females were so demonstrative in their applause that they were fined $25 for contempt of court, and Mrs. Fair promptly [illegible] their fines. It is difficult to appreciate the sentiment that called forth these approving manifestations. Mrs. Fair's language [illegible] simply showed the hold that she had upon Crittenden, when, having betrayed his family, disgraced himself and deserted his wife for such a woman as Mrs. Fair, that he would publicly champion the fancied wrongs of his paramour. And this is not the only occasion on which these strong-minded females disgrace themselves and their sex. The published reports of the trial show that [illegible] opened only to greater manifestations, met their hearty approval. But above all is the [illegible] fact, that these women have gone as spectators into a court, probably for the first time in their lives, mingling with the class of men who usually throng the court room when [illegible] peculiar nastiness and scandal is [illegible] [illegible] and publicly shown their sympathy with the mistress of a married man who murdered her paramour in the presence of his innocent family. We know that there are many good women in California who sympathise with the so-called Woman's Rights movement, and can fancy their mortification that a cause that has much of justice in it should be thus disgraced. The movement is unfortunately represented in California by those who publicly assume its championship. Their last convention [illegible] and robbed the cause of whatever dignity it previously had, but if any further disgrace were needed, it is furnished in the conduct of these Woman's Rights leaders in their shameless manifestations of sympathy for the female assassin, now on trial in San Francisco.

Alsace and Lorraine.

From "France and Germany" by Father Hyacinthe.

Hitherto I have said nothing of Alsace and Lorraine, and my silence has been intentional. Although so hotly debated on both sides, the question appears to me only a secondary one, having nothing to do with the real grounds of the quarrel, and the undue importance assigned to it, both by France and Germany, has been one of the most futile, though at the same time most fruitful, causes of the prolongation of the strife. For myself, I have too high and too just an idea of my country to confound her moral integrity with her material integrity upon this point, or to believe that the mere possession of two provinces is so essential to her greatness that if she lost them she would forfeit her high preeminence in Europe. English history itself proves the contrary. When we retook Calais, the town which was spoken of as a loaded pistol aimed against the heart of France, that event was looked upon in England as a public misfortune, and your Queen went to her tomb with the fatal name of Calais engraved upon her heart. But what Englishman of the present day now regrets the loss [illegible] it will be, I doubt not, if Strasburg and Metz are taken away from us [illegible] for their strategic importance that [illegible] two cities, [illegible] for the heroic loyalty which they have [illegible] France, and which [illegible] Alsace and Lorraine [illegible] in France, and they will prove it by their votes, as they have declared it by shedding their blood; and it is the duty of France, both to them and to herself, not to abandon them.

On the other hand, Germany is wrong in regarding the annexation of these provinces as a final guarantee against aggression from our side. Let the new German Empire be moderate as well as strong, and she will have nothing to fear from the attacks of a neighbor who will be at once weakened and grateful. Whatever opinions others may have, I believe in the gratitude of nations, and more especially in that of my own generous country. The true guarantees for Germany are the relations of good neighborhood and a sincere and permanent alliance with us; and the best pledge of such an alliance would be to allow Alsace and Lorraine to continue in the national unity of France. Those provinces, you will say, are German, both by history and language, and I willingly admit it; but they are pervaded by the spirit of France, and they are ours by the energy and persistence of their patriotism. Alsace and Lorraine are a natural and living bond between these two great nations. They are, as it were, the hand—I might almost say the heart—of Germany, reposing affectionately in the hand and heart of France.

New Party Projects.

[From the N. Y. Times, April 2.]

No one doubts that there exists in the Republican Party at this moment a feeling of discontent. It is not wide-spread, but it makes itself visible in newspaper opposition, and in attempts to direct party action. This feeling finds expression in vague suggestions of amnesty, civil and revenue reform, and return to specie payments. All these subjects are important, but the persons urging them on the public attention are not clear in their statements of what they desire. Generalities will not do. There must be a definite policy prescribed. We are compelled to raise a large revenue, and to raise it in a manner which shall be least burdensome to the people is a difficult task. The gentlemen calling themselves the Central Republican Association of Hamilton county, who lately assembled at Cincinnati, and published their opinions on various questions—that of revenue reform included—say that the "public revenues should be derived from duties on imports levied on the smallest possible number of taxable articles." This proposition will give rise to much difference of opinion with regard to the articles on which the tax should be levied. The revenue has already been greatly reformed, and as soon as the condition of the country will permit, other reforms will be made. This is the work of the Republican Party. Those Republicans at the West who are now urging us to "go faster" should remember that great results have already been accomplished by making haste slowly.

The only hope of reform in the civil service lies in the action of the Republican Party. To the victors belong the spoils, is a Democratic principle. It is ingrained and ineradicable. The condition of affairs in this city is an example of what would exist in the nation, if, by any chance, the Democratic Party should come into power. Civil service reform, according to Democratic views, means a general turning out of the Opposition. This is not the kind of reform desired at the West.

Objections to our present financial policy consist in loose expressions about an "irredeemable currency." This currency, with which so much fault is now found, answered the needs of the Government during the war, and, since the inauguration of President Grant has, owing to the faithfulness with which the revenues have been collected, and the economy with which they have been disbursed, been steadily appreciating in value. We say, then, that the discontent which is occasionally manifested at the West in meetings like that at Cincinnati, is without foundation. Not one of the reforms asked can be hoped for from the Democratic Party. Independent action would tend to defeat the desired end. The Republican Party has already accomplished great reforms, and is the party of progress. It is only by acting with it that the supporters of revenue, civil service, or any other reform, can attain their object.

How Circumstantial Evidence Wove a net of Death about an Innocent Man.

A remarkable case, showing the danger of trusting implicity to circumstantial evidence, has just been concluded in Toledo. Nearly three years ago, Robert Sharp was found dead with shot and slugs in his brain. A man named Harrington, who had been on intimate terms with the deceased, was arrested for the murder. The evidence was wholly circumstantial, but so skillfully "worked up" by the detectives that Harrington was convicted and sentenced to the Penitentiary. His lawyers had become interested in his case, and, although Harrington was a poor man, they determined to fight his cause to the end. After a long and arduous struggle through the District and Supreme Courts, an order for a new trial was obtained, and that trial has just been closed.

The main points in the evidence on which he was convicted were the apparent correspondence of the shot in the body of the dead man with that in the shot-bag belonging to Harrington; the correspondence of a pieces of a newspaper found near the scene of the supposed murder, and assumed to be part of the gun-wadding, with a torn paper in Harrington's residence and a piece in his vest pocket; and that the motive for the murder was to be found in the alleged fact of Sharp having come to Toledo with several hundred dollars of money, which Harrington knew, and that no one else was so intimate with him.

On the second trial it was rendered doubtful whether there was a similarity in the shot. It was clearly proven that the pieces of paper alleged to have been picked up at the scene of the murder were not there at the time of the finding of the body, nor for a day or two afterward; and the inference was unavoidable that they were put there by the detectives to aid them in "working up" the case against Harrington. It was further proven that Sharp was destitute when he arrived in Toledo, and that Harrington was doing his best to aid him in procuring employment. To crown all, an alibi was clearly and satisfactorily proven. Harrington was declared innocent, and the jury voluntarily gave him a letter, signed by every member, repeating, in emphatic terms, their belief in his entire innocence or any knowledge of the supposed murder, and bearing testimony to his uniform good character. The public sentiment unanimously coincided with this verdict. The former employer of Harrington immediately took him back into service.

It causes an unpleasant shudder to reflect that a perfectly innocent man, of good character suffered two years of degrading punishment, and narrowly escaped an ignominious death for a crime of which he knew nothing. It is another warning of the danger of implicit trust in wholly circumstantial evidence, and a protest against the detectives in "working up a case" against one they choose to suspect.

Cheap Water Pipe.
"THE ASPHALTUM PRESSURE PIPE COMPANY," of San Francisco, having purchased of the patentee the sole right to manufacture on this coast, are now making an article at their works, at Alameda Point, that will supply the general want of a cheap and durable water pipe. The invention originated in France, where these pipes are extensively used, as well as in Germany; in fact, all over Europe, almost entirely superseding for all ordinary purposes the use of iron. It is no new thing, having been in use twenty years.

Its Durability.
Being imperishable and insensible to atmospheric influences or chemical properties of the earth, it never changes, and is consequently much more durable than iron, which corrodes, and in time leaks.

It is a Non-Conductor,
And will not freeze except at a remarkably low temperature, and even then its expansive power is greater than that of frozen water. In warm weather it acts as a cooler for water passing through it.

Neutrality to Acids and Alkalis.
This pipe is not affected by acids and alkalis, nor is it affected by galvanic currents—consequently is invaluable in conducting telegraph wires under ground through tunnels and under bridges.

Elasticity.
The elasticity of this pipe prevents its bursting from outward shocks or concussions. The interior of the pipes being glazed, are as smooth as porcelain, and consequently are never clogged by adhering sediment.

Lightness.
The mean weight of these pipes to iron is as one to five, which not only facilitates handling, but reduces the cost of transportation.

Laying the Pipe
Is a simple matter—can be laid by any laboring man of ordinary intelligence; but the Company, if required, will always furnish a competent person, free of expense, to oversee the proper laying of the pipe. Contracts taken for any required length of pipe from water or mining companies, and warranted to stand according to contract.

Pipe Under Pressure
Can be seen at the office of the Company. We are the only parties manufacturing this pipe on the Pacific Coast under this patent. All other offered is spurious and an infringement.

Cheapness.
The cost when laid, including connections, is about one-quarter that of lead and one-half that of iron.
We manufacture this pipe in lengths of twelve feet, and ship it everywhere, by all sorts of conveyances—no special care being required. We manufacture it of any size from one to twelve inches.

Pressure.
We manufacture according to the pressure required from 1 to 600 pounds to the inch, and guarantee it to stand the pressure.

Prices.

1 inch,	10 cents per foot
2 inch,	20 " "
3 inch,	30 " "
4 inch,	40 " "
5 inch,	50 " "
6 inch,	60 " "
8 inch,	$1 00 " "
10 inch,	$1 25 " "
12 inch,	$1 50 " "

For pipe capable of resisting a pressure of 150 lbs. to the square inch.

This pipe being made of a combination of paper, canvas, and asphaltum, in lengths of twelve feet, should not be confounded with moulded asphaltum pipe in lengths of four feet.

LAND DEPARTMENT
OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd-numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M., February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect.
